ARE YOU REGISTERED?

We again urge upon Republican voters to see that they are duly registered. The Assessors' lists are now posted up, and every voter should be certain that his name is on it. Let each one see to this personally, and make sure work of it. Neglect may subject the voter to inconvenience at the polls and endanger his ballot. If your name is not on the list, go at once to the Assessor, and see that he puts it down. We do not know that any of our Assessors have wilfully withheld the names of any qualified voters. But we know that only a few years ago ten or twelve qualified Republican voters in a Democratic district in this county, personally known to the Assessor, were surprised on election day to find that they were not assessed, and hence lost their votes. The Assessor excused himself on the ground that the law required voters to call PERSONALLY on him, and that he was bound to assess only such as did thus call. It was a small, mean trick, and not many Assessors will be found mean enough to resort to such a dodge. But even the most conscientious Assessor may neglect to register through oversight. Now that we have a Registry Law, to guard against fraudulent votes, it is more than ever incumbent on every citizen who values the elective franchise to be on his guard. Don't delay your duty in this respect, but ATTEND TO IT AT ONCE.

TOWNSHIP OFFICERS.

We again remind our Republican friends that by the Act abolishing the Spring elections, the usual Township officers, excepting Assessor, will be voted for at the approaching October election. These officers will be voted for on a SEPARATE TICKET. The County Ticket will be printed and distributed, as usual, by the County Committee; but each township must see to the printing of its ticket for township officers. As the nomination of good and strong men for township officers will give strength to the County ticket, we trust that our friends will see to it that the very best men are presented for these local offices.

To facilitate the printing of the township tickets, let the nominations be made early, at least ten days or two weeks before the election. There can be no propriety in deferring these nominations to the last hour, but delay may make it impracticable to have the tickets printed in time for the election. Let there be an early move in this direction in every township.

THE difficulty in Virginia in regard to the test-oath has been solved for the present by Attorney General HOAR, to whom the legal question involved had been submitted by the President. The Attorney General holds that, under the Re-construction acts, the Legislature elect must, as a prerequisite, submit the Constitution, and their action thereon, to Congress for approval. In this the test-oath will not be required. If the Constitution and the action of the Legislature be approved, the Legislature then becomes the Legislature of the State of Virginia, and the provisions of the Constitution fixing the qualification of members of the Legislature necessarily prevail, the requirements of the reconstruction acts being thus superseded so far as Virginia is concerned. But before such approval by Congress, Virginia not being in all respects a State of the Union, the Legislature, as a provisional body, cannot pass laws without its members taking the test-oath. The Reconstruction acts require the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States before the State can be admitted to representation in Congress. This opinion of the Attorney General will, of course, control the action of Gen. CANBY, who will shortly issue his proclamation declaring the result of the recent election in Virginia. The Legislature will meet in four weeks thereafter, ratify the Constitutional Amendment, and then adjourn to await the action of Congress.

OUR finances were never better managed than now by the State and General Government. Our opponents knowing this fact, and fearing its effect, are inventing all kinds of absurd stories about the extravagance and squandering of money by the Government, which have not even the semblance of truth.

THE Vermont Election, on Tuesday, resulted as usual in a Republican triumph. The vote was light, with a Republican majority of about 20,000 in the State. The Senate is unanimously Republican, and but four Democrats are returned to the House.

ALEXANDER SLUTZMAN has been renominated for the State Senate by the Republicans of the Bedford, Fulton and Somerset district; and Messrs. F. B. LONG, of Somerset, and J. H. LONGENECKER, of Bedford, for the Legislature.

THE German Democrats of Luzerne county recently held a convention, in which forty townships were represented. They unanimously adopted a resolution to hereafter support the Republican party.

IF the tax-payers of Pennsylvania want the reduction of the State debt to continue at the present rate of two and a half millions a year, they must vote for GEARY this fall.

DEATH OF SECRETARY RAWLINS.

Gen. JOHN A. RAWLINS, Secretary of War, died at Washington on Monday afternoon last. He was Gen. GRANT's Chief of Staff, and his most intimate friend and confidential adviser, during the whole of the War. A severe bronchial affection, contracted whilst in the service, eventuated in consumption, from which for four years past General RAWLINS has been a constant sufferer. During all that time his life has hung as it were on a thread, and has, perhaps, only been prolonged by the steady resolution of the man, which resisted the inroads of disease so long as there were responsibilities to meet or duties to be performed by which he could aid the Administration of his chief. Upon the accession of Gen. GRANT to the Presidency he naturally turned to Gen. RAWLINS to administer the War Department.—He brought to this position the same energy, prudence, and marked administrative ability which had characterized his services in the field, and which had so commanded the confidence of his illustrious chief.

When the rebellion commenced General RAWLINS was practicing law in Galena, Illinois, a townsman and personal friend of General Grant. A Democrat in politics, he had adhered to the cause of Mr. Douglas in 1860, canvassing the State as one of the Presidential electors. On the commencement of actual hostilities he took decided and national ground in behalf of the Union. At a meeting held in Galena a few days after the firing upon Sumter he declared that it "was no longer a question of politics, but one simply of country or no country;" that the day of compromise was passed, and he was with those who would "stand by the flag and appeal to the God of Battles." These words he followed by actions. In August of 1861 he was engaged in organizing a regiment of volunteer infantry, when he received from General Grant, who had preceded him to the field, an invitation to a position on his staff. He joined General Grant early in September as Assistant Adjutant General, and continued with him from that time in all his campaigns, battles and military operations, until the war closed by the surrender of the Rebel forces in 1865.

The acquaintanceship that had previously existed between General Grant and General Rawlins was cemented by this long intercourse and comradeship through the dangers and responsibilities of the war into a friendship more than ordinarily close, confiding and confidential; and Gen. Grant has on all legitimate occasions borne the most cordial tributes to Gen. Rawlins' services and personal worth.

Recently Secretary Rawlins had another hemorrhage, but recovered sufficiently to attend the Cabinet meeting last week. A few days after, he was again protrated, and on Sunday afternoon Rev. Mr. Wilson, of the Methodist Episcopal church, baptized him, and in the evening administered to him the Lord's Supper. During the day he also made his Will, which was witnessed by most of the members of the Cabinet.

Gen. Grant, who had returned to Saratoga to meet his family, was telegraphed for; but by some mismanagement the telegrams were delayed and did not reach him until Sunday evening. He immediately took the night train, reaching New York on Monday morning, and Washington at 5½ P. M., an hour after Gen. Rawlins had breathed his last. The Secretary had made frequent inquiries for the President during the day. On reaching Washington, the President repaired immediately to the Secretary's residence, and is said to have been deeply affected as he stood by the corpse of his cherished friend.

Gen. Rawlins' death is a national loss. He enjoyed in a large degree the love and esteem of his comrades in arms. During his illness telegrams of condolence were delivered to him from Gen. Sheridan and other prominent officers, which seemed grateful to the dying soldier, eliciting the remark, "If the love of my friends could do it, I would soon be a healthy man."

The funeral was to take place yesterday from the Headquarters of the Army in Washington, and the Secretary's remains will for the present be interred in the Congressional Cemetery. The President issued an order directing the public Departments throughout the country to be closed on Thursday, minute guns to be fired at Military Posts, and the national flags to be lowered to half mast.

IN 1836, when JOHN WOLFORD was elected County Commissioner by the meagre majority of 16, he was beaten 50 votes in his own district of York Springs—Henry Myers, Dem., receiving 186 votes to 136 for WOLFORD.—Compiler.

Our neighbor has evidently been studying Mrs. Opie to advantage, and understands the dodge of suppressing truth without telling a direct falsehood. The above paragraph don't tell the whole story. In 1836, the entire Whig ticket was defeated in the county, except three men whose personal popularity saved them. Col. WOLFORD was one of the three! York Springs district went Democratic that year, giving Democratic majorities ranging from 64 to 103, while Col. WOLFORD was beaten only 50. Not only this.—While such strong men as James McSherry, Thaddeus Stevens, George L. Faus and Joseph J. Kuhn, on the Whig ticket, went down in 1836, Col. WOLFORD led his ticket sufficiently in the county to beat Henry Myers, one of the strongest men the opposition had in the field. Indeed, with but a single exception, Col. WOLFORD led every man on his ticket. James McSherry, for Congress, polled 1344 votes; Thaddeus Stevens, for Legislature, 1318 and George L. Faus, 1297; John Wolford, for Commissioner, 1343; Joseph J. Kuhn, for Auditor, 1258; Baltzer Snyder, for Director, 1353; Joseph Smith, for Coroner, 1248, and John Ash, 1334.

We are indebted to the Compiler for calling attention to the official record, establishing, as it does, the confidence reposed in Col. WOLFORD in 1836, when comparatively a young man. The early promise of the man has been fully realized, and to-day no man in the county enjoys a more enviable reputation for essential integrity and personal worth. He is just the kind of man to send to Harrisburg. There will be no danger of having his record tainted with even the suspicion of corruption.

THE internal revenue receipts for the month of July 1868, were $16,189,642-22; for August, same year, $13,900,-385.78. The receipts for the month of July 1869, were $21,578,684.94, and for August $15,015,396.61, a gain of $5,-703,996.13. The receipts for the fiscal quarter ending September 30th, 1868, were $38,736,883.06, and it is estimated that for the corresponding quarter this year they will reach $48,000,000.

THE Republicans carried Wilmington, Del., on Tuesday, electing their Mayor and a majority of the City Council.

West Virginia—Ratified March 3, 1869.
Wisconsin—Ratified March 5, 1869.

The Constitution provides that any proposed amendment must be ratified by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the States before it can become a part of the Constitution. In the above list there are thirty-seven States. The ratification of twenty-eight is necessary to constitute the Amendment part of the Constitution. Nineteen States have already ratified it. Nine more are therefore necessary to render the ratification complete. By the requirements of Congress Mississippi, Texas and Virginia must ratify the Amendment before their reconstruction can be completed. These three States, added to the nineteen which have already ratified it, would make twenty-two States, leaving six yet required to render the action complete. And the States from which these six must be obtained are: Alabama, California, Delaware, Georgia, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Jersey, Oregon, Rhode Island, Tennessee and Vermont.

Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland and California may be counted against the Amendment. Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Ohio, Rhode Island and Vermont may be counted certainly for it—giving, with Mississippi, Texas and Virginia, the requisite number of States to make the Amendment a part of the Constitution. Besides these, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, New Jersey and Oregon, may be relied on to increase the certainty of its adoption. Manhood Suffrage is thus made a fixed fact, and the sooner our Democratic friends learn it, the better. Just now, their leaders are playing their last card on the "nigger," appealing to the prejudices of the rank and file to keep them in the traces, and hoping to win over here and there some weak-kneed Republican. It is their last chance.

A BRIEF CONTRAST.

The Lebanon Courier presents to the consideration of the people the following brief contrast of the times when the "Democrats" held sway, and the condition of things now that the Republicans have power. Every candid man must acknowledge the truth of the contrast:

It is scarcely possible to believe that any intelligent citizen who wishes well to the country, can hesitate in giving his support to the Republican party in preference to the Democratic.

For many years the Democratic party was but the echo of the slaveholders' demands. They used it to spread slavery, to perfect the conspiracy against the existence of the Union, and finally to wage war against the life of the nation.

The Republican party was born of the necessities of the times. It came to say to those who were bent on severing our whole land with slavery, thus far you shall go, and no further. And when war against the Union came, it was the organization around which loyal men rallied as the instrumet for saving the liberties of the Republic and preserving the existence of the Union.

The Democratic party was a corrupt party. It sunk our State so deeply in debt that at one time Pennsylvania was on the brink of repudiation. The Republicans came into power, arrested the wholesale corruption that was rampant, and at once commenced the reduction of the State debt.

In our nation affairs everybody knows the condition to which we were reduced under Mr. Buchanan, when the Treasury was robbed of every cent in it, including Indian bonds placed there for safe keeping, and when our credit was so low, in a time of peace, that we could borrow money only at a heavy premium. When Mr. Lincoln assumed the duties of President, this wholesale robbery of the Treasury was put a stop to, and although we were plunged into war by rebels and traitors, our credit improved. As soon as A. Johnson, through his treachery, gave the Democrats another opportunity at the money bags, the robbing system was resumed, and millions upon millions of dollars were diverted from the national treasury, where it belonged, to the pockets of scheming and plundering Democrats. Then, again, as soon as the Republicans once more took the helm under Grant, the money once more flows into the Treasury, and our debt is rapidly reduced.

The Democrats persistently encourage fraud at elections, and antagonize any law designed to protect the ballot-box. The Republicans, on the contrary, demand fair elections so that the people's will may be declared, and uphold laws for that object.

The Democratic party bases its strength on prejudice, ignorance and deception. The Republican party looks to justice and equality for all, to the education and enlightenment of the people, and to frankness towards the public.

The Democratic party is still desirous of having the men who formerly led the party and who led in the rebellion placed in power, while the Republicans would have the men who have always been true to the Union direct the destiny of the nation.

The Democrats would disgrace and ruin the nation through repudiation; the Republicans would pay the national obligations, and maintain the national honor.

Thus may the tendency and objects of the two parties be carried out on all public questions, and their relations will be found to be the same. The Democratic party grew out of the barbarism, violence and sins of slavery, and has a nature which it is an impossibility to change as for a leopard to change his spots. The Republican party, from its inception, recognised the demands of morality and Christianity in our public affairs, and accepts as its guide the eternal principles of Right and Justice.

In choosing between the two, what good man can hesitate?

THE Mauch Chunk Gazette predicts that Mr. Packer will prove weakest in those portions of the State where he is best known; and says he will not gain ten Republican votes in the town of Mauch Chunk, while throughout the mining region he will run behind his ticket. No doubt there are a good many Democrats in his own town and county who will hesitate before voting for a man who, while still actually residing among them with his family as he had done for a quarter of a century, pretended all at once that his home was a tavern in Philadelphia, in order to avoid paying his borough and county taxes, and thereby throwing the burden on his poorer neighbors.

AMONG the names mentioned for Secretary of War, to succeed the late Secretary Rawlins, are Gen. George H. Thomas, Judge Holt, Gen. J. M. Dodge Chief Engineer of the Union Pacific Railroad, and Gen. John A. Logan.

SENATOR FESSENDEN, of Maine, died at Portland on Wednesday, of disease of the bowels. He was a man of great abilities, has been in public life over thirty years, and he will be missed in the Senate.

UNDER the new Constitution of Virginia all State officers will be required to swear that they "recognize and accept the civil and political equality of all men before the law."

ASK your Republican neighbor if he is registered. If not, go with him and have it done. Be sure not to forget to register.

JUDGE DENT, brother-in-law of President Grant, has been nominated for Governor by the Conservative Republicans of Mississippi.

GEN. SHERMAN has been commissioned Secretary of War ad interim, to act until an appointment is made.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

THE Democrats want Ps—Packer, Pershing, and Plunder.

THE Berks county Republicans have made the following nomination for the Legislature:—Captains J. S. Trexler, Charles Meicher and John S. Tryon.

MARYLAND politics wear a very promising aspect for our Republican friends. The opposition are so bitterly divided that their reunion seems impossible. Their quarrel is all about the colored question.

DOUGLASS DEMOCRATS will remember in October the part which Asa Packer played at the Charleston Convention, in 1860, in bolting the "Little Giant" and supporting Breckinridge, the candidate of the proslavery Democracy of the South.

GEN. ROSECRANS' letter to the Democracy of Ohio condensed in a half dozen lines, says:—"I am a Democrat—but not the kind of Democrat you take me for. I am a Democrat of the Jefferson school, and believe in the Declaration of Independence, and in the honor and credit of my country. You are Democrats in name only. Your candidate I cannot be until you change your principles to Democracy of the real sort."

THE letter of General Rosecrans appears to have occasioned the utmost consternation among the Ohio Democracy. Nobody seems satisfied with the situation. Vallandigham only is cool, desiring "a quiet campaign." As for Pendleton, he seems to be thoroughly convinced that he has been marked out for sacrifice. Some sanguine Republicans expect to carry the State by at least forty thousand majority.

THE Wisconsin Republicans took advanced ground in their convention on Wednesday of last week. According to their platform they are for free speech, a free press, and free schools for all classes; for such occasional revision of the revenue and tariff laws as will render them most efficient and least burdensome; for an adjustment of internal taxation to the same end; for economy in the National Administration, and keeping faith with public creditors. These propositions challenge general approval, and the State election will undoubtedly be carried by the Republicans under this programme with a more sounding majority than in former years. The majority last year was but little less than twenty-five thousand.

A NOBLE LIFE.—On the 26th of June, 1861, at the very beginning of the late war for the preservation of the Union, John W. Geary was mustered into the service as a Colonel. On the 25th of April, 1862, he was promoted to Brigadier General, and on the 12th of January, 1865, was made Major General. He was wounded at Bolivar, Cedar Mountain and Chancellorsville. To the present day he carries rebel lead in his body. He has been Mayor of San Francisco, Governor of Kansas, Military Governor of Savannah, and Governor of Pennsylvania. He discharged the reponsible duties of each and all of these positions with honor to himself and credit to his native State. Few Pennsylvanians have ever made a nobler record. The people read it with pride, and will re-elect him in October by an overwhelming majority.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS has been nominated by the Democrats of Massachusetts as their candidate for Governor. He said nothing until nominated, and then in a speech of acceptance, declared that Democrats must accept all the reconstruction measures, and negro suffrage along with them, else the party would fall. It could not longer resist the progress of liberty, and the only policy was to shake off the old leaders, and take a position in advance, if possible, of the Republicans in the advocacy of progressive measures. The speech was not well received, and there are few Democrats who are not sorry that he is on the ticket. Vallandigham has since come out in a counter-speech, wherein he declares that only the old anti-war Democrats are of the true faith —as attested by the nomination of Packer in Pennsylvania and Pendleton of Ohio—and incontinently reads all others out of the party. Adams reads out one wing, Vallandigham the other. Who remains?

IT is a noticeble fact that those most clamorous for the repudation of the public debt, or for such a forced modification of it as will amount to a partial repudation, are equally clamorous for the payment of every doubtful claim that originated in the rebel States. The men who came forward voluntarily and loaned their money to the Government in the hour of its direst extremity are stiled "bloated bondholders," while those whose property in rebel territory fell by fortune of war, or was taken under military authority, are regarded as suffering and defrauded creditors, the postponement of whose claims is a reproach to the Government. This illustrates the animus of the men who make the demand. They have sympathized steadily with the South, and they now desire that treason or doubtful loyalty shall be rewarded from the public treasury, and that patriotism shall be paid by repudiation. They can see abundant reason why every claim that is tainted by rebellion should be liquidated, but they hesitate over the obligation to which the national faith was plighted, and with which the national credit is indissolubly connected.—Providence Journal.

A TERRIBLE DISASTER.

The Burning of a Coal Mine—360 Persons Killed.

SCRANTON, PA., September 8.—There is great excitement here in consequence of the burning of the coal breaker at Avondale. The mine is in Plymouth, about twenty miles south of this city. There are 201 men and boys in the mine, and the shaft, which is the only means of escape, is choaked by forty feet of burning coal and rubbish. It is feared the whole number have been suffocated by smoke or have perished for want of air. The fire departments of Scranton, Wilkesbarre and Kingston are on hand and playing streams down the shaft. It will probably take until to-morrow morning before the condition of the men can be ascertained or any tidings received from them. The scene at the shaft is heartrending. The families of miners are congregated there in great numbers.

Miners from all parts of the country are there at work, and merchants, and the whole population of the town, have turned out to assist.

All the physicians in the vicinity have been summoned to attend. The affair has cast a gloom over the whole community, and business is almost entirely suspended. The miners only resumed work to day, after a suspension of about three months. Among those in the mine is Mr. Hughes, the superintendent. The fire began at 10 o'clock A. M. All experts agree that it must have been communicated from the ventilating furnace, to the wood work at the bottom shaft, 327 feet below the surface. The flames then rushed with a great violence up the shaft and broke out in the engine room at the top. The engineer barely escaped with his life. The buildings covering the mouth of the shaft were one hundred feet high, two hundred feet long, all wood and dry as tinder. They were almost instantly enveloped in flames, and it was impossible to reach the mouth of the shaft to help the men below.

The work of quenching the fire and clearing the shaft consumed some hours.—Meanwhile thousands of people gathered from the surrounding country. The families of the men in the pit were present, and their cries heartrending.

At fifty minutes past 5 o'clock a dog and lamp were sent down in a bucket to test the air, and when brought up the dog was alive and the lamp burning. In five minutes immediate preparations were made to descend the shaft, and at 6:34 a man went down in a bucket, and in seven minutes ascertained and reported no difficulty in breathing, but obstructions half way down, so that he could not pass. At 6:50 two men were sent down with tools. They removed the obstructions, reached the bottom of the shaft, and returned at 7:15. They reported that they had penetrated the gangway 60 or 70 yards, and finding three dead mules, and reaching a closed door, at which they bastered so lustily that their blows were heard above ground, but got no response and discovered no signs of life. Clouds of sulphurous gas were pouring out through the door, yet they could breathe without much difficulty. These clouds of gas must have filled that part of the mine around the foot of the shaft, if not all of it.

Despatches just received from Avondale say that Thomas W. Williams, of Plymouth, and David Jones, of Grand Tunnel, who went down to make further investigations, were suffocated to death. On a second attempt the dead body of Williams was brought up by David H. Davis and Benjamin Jones. Thomas Williams went down and dragged David Jones some distance, to the foot of the shaft, when he was compelled to come up. John W. and Isaac Thomas then went down and brought up the body. All who attempted to go down are now out alive except Williams and Jones.

All who have been down say it is very hot, and loud calls have failed to elicit an answer. The only hope for the 201 men in the mine is that they may have shut themselves up in the workings entirely away from the draft. Several hundred men were taken from here this evening with the idea of drilling a gangway from a neighboring mine into the Avondale workings, but as it must be solid rock cutting, this means would probably not relieve the suffering men in time. The distance to be cut is variously estimated at from twenty to sixty feet, and the time required two or three days.

LATER.—The latest despatches from the scene of the appalling catastrophe, afford no hope that out of that holocaust of human victims any one of the two hundred miners engulphed amidst the horrors of fire damp, smoke and gas, hundreds of feet below the surface of the earth, will come out alive; three separate attempts were made to enter the mine, and each party was driven back from its entrance by the gas and smoke which poured out in dense volumes. In Scranton and the adjoining towns the fearful calamity has cast the gloom of death over the entire population, and six hundred widows and orphans lament the death of their husbands and fathers in the burning mine.

STILL LATER—ALL DEAD!—Despatches from Scranton on Wednesday night, say that further investigation shows that all the miners were suffocated; 72 dead bodies had been recovered already.

THE Republicans of Lancaster county have nominated the following ticket:—Senate, Emlas Billingfelt, John B. Warfel; Assembly, A Godschalk, East Cocalico; Dr. E. B. Herr, Manor; A. C. Reinoehl, Mahlem; John E. Wiley, Conoy; Sheriff, William Myers; Register, Henry S. Schenk, City; Prothonotary, William D. Stauffer, City; Clerk of Sessions, William Barton, City; Clerk Orphans' Court, Geo. W. Keen, Eden; Treasurer, Wm. Roberts, West Hempfield.

THE Scranton Register (Democratic) anticipates that the result of a strike among the Irish and German Democratic voters of Luzerne county will cause it to be lost to Packer, the Democratic candidate for Governor, unless the rupture can be healed. Luzerne is usually sure for the Democrats by three thousand majority, and the trouble must be serious to induce the Packer organ to speak out so plainly.

FROM a tabular statement prepared at the Internal Revenue office, it appears that the quantity of whiskey upon which tax was paid during the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1868, was 6,709,546 gallons, while for the year ending June 30th, 1869, it was 61,881,-620 gallons, with thirty-seven districts yet to be heard from. This is indubitable evidence that the law is more faithfully executed now than it has been heretofore.

THE Germans in this State who have heretofore supported the Democratic ticket are making a general movement to support Geary and Williams this fall. Being generally an honest, industrious, and thrifty race, they do not believe in free trade and repudiation. They will make themselves felt.

OAK HALL.—The season just closing has been the most successful one they have ever had at the "Largest Clothing House," Wanamaker & Brown's, and one gratifying feature of it has been their unparralleled success with the country trade. They not only succeed in drawing to their establishment the majority of the out-of-town customers who buy clothes in Philadelphia but also pleased them well and secured most of them for permanent customers. They will not let go this hold they have now got upon the country people but will every season make their house more and more worthy of continued patronage. 1t

The subscriber, intending to quit farming, offers his Farm and Mill at public sale on the 16th day of September, 1869, at 1 o'clock, P. M. The Farm contains 128½ ACRES, more or less, and is situate on the public road from Littlestown to Hunterstown, 3 miles west of Littlestown, and nearly on the line of the Railroad laid out from Littlestown to Frederick—in Mountjoy township, Adams county, Pa. The improvements consist of a large STONE MANSION, with excellent cellar, and a never-failing spring and well with a pump near the dwelling, a large Stone Bank Barn, 80 feet, new Wagon Shed and Corn Cribs, Hog Pen, Smoke House, Spring House, Ice House, and all necessary out-buildings; a small Stone House, 1½ stories high, at the mill. The MILL is three stories, lower story stone, upper frame; it has a Chopping Mill, containing one pair choppers and corn cruster—Saw Mill, Lime Kiln, and a never-failing supply of water. The Saw Mill is hard to surpass in sawing qualities, and enjoys a very large custom. The mills are in first-rate repair. There is a Lime Kiln in good condition on the farm, and lime stone within three miles. Timber of good quality, and has nearly all been lined twice, enough for a farmer. There are about 18 acres in timber, nearly all bottom land—white chestnut, oak, hickory, and walnut; very thriving. The farm is laid off in convenient fields, fenced and watered, the creek passing nearly through the centre. There is a good Apple Orchard in bearing condition, besides Peaches, Cherries, Pears and Grapes on the farm. All said and growing crops will give all the necessary possession.

STAR AND SENTINEL.

The Star and Sentinel.

Gettysburg, Friday, Sept. 10, 1869.

☞Stephen Wible intends building a two-story brick dwelling house on Carlisle street.

☞Mr. Ernest Lagarde, late of Petersburg, Va., has been elected Professor of Modern Languages in Mount St. Mary's College, at Emmittsburg.

☞Rev. H. S. Cook, late of the Theological Seminary at this place, has accepted a call from the Mission Lutheran Church at Newton, Iowa.

POTATOES.—Mr. Jacob Cauffman, of Hamiltonban township, sends us some fine specimens of California Mercer Potatoes, weighing from 1½ to 2 pounds each—one being 8½ inches long.

SALES.—Persons desiring to purchase Real Estate should consult the columns of the STAR AND SENTINEL, and those having comfortable homes or lands to sell, will find it the best advertising medium in the county.

BASE BALL.—A match game of Base Ball was played at New Oxford on the 9th ult., between the Juvenile Clubs of New Oxford and Hanover. The game, which was closely contested, was won by the Hanoverians.

ARRESTED.—A man hailing from Woodsboro, Md., named Levi Fogle, was arrested last week in Littlestown, and committed to the county jail by Justice McIlvaine, on suspicion of having stolen a set of new buggy harness.

DISSOLVE.—Messrs. Soper and McCartney have dissolved partnership, Mr. McCartney taking the establishment in his own name. He is a young man of energy and courteous manners, a skillful workman, and merits a liberal custom.

NEW LAMP POST.—The Town Council have ordered a new Lamp Post to be put at the intersection of East Middle and Stration streets. If the Gas Company refuse to extend their pipes to that point, coal oil will be used. A light is badly needed at that point in dark nights.

PIC NIC.—The Presbyterian Sabbath School of this place, with many members of the congregation, and the children of the Orphans' Homestead, had a pleasant social Pic-Nic on the line of the Gettysburg Railroad, near Hanover, yesterday. The weather was propitious with a cool and bracing atmosphere, and everything passed off pleasantly.

FOR SALE.—S. B. Row, Esq., offers for sale his residence on Chambersburg street. It is a two story brick, with back building, furnished with gas, good water, fine fruit, &c., and all in prime order. It is in every respect a desirable residence, and worthy the attention of persons wishing to secure a pleasant home.

By-the-way, we are reminded of some specimens of choice Peaches exhibited to us by Mr. Row last week, which surpass in size and beauty anything we have seen this season.

WEST PENNSYLVANIA SYNOD.—The West Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran Church will meet in Gettysburg, on Wednesday evening, Sept. 22. The Synod at one time embraced the territory of Pennsylvania west of the Susquehanna river, and hence its distinctive name.—Three other Synods (Central, Allegheny, and Pittsburg,) have since been organized, and the West Pennsylvania now extends only over four counties, Adams, York, Cumberland and Franklin. There will probably be about forty ministers present, with a corresponding number of lay delegates. The Synod will hold its meetings in St. James' Church on York street, and will continue in session about a week.

THE ADVANCE.—This journal, which Dr. BUSHNELL pronounces "one of the ablest, best, and most outspoken religious papers now published," enters upon its third volume this week, and celebrates the event by several marked improvements. It appears in a new dress of type, begins the regular publication of Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER'S Sermons, and adds several new names to its list of contributors, among them that of Hon. HENRY WILSON of Massachusetts, who, in the current number discusses the problem of Chinese imigration from the standpoint of Christian statesmanship. The publication of Beecher's Sermons in the ADVANCE will prove an admirable feature of an already admirable paper, and attract many readers.

The ADVANCE is published at $2.50 per year by THE ADVANCE COMPANY, 25 Lombard Block, Chicago.

GRAPE GROWING.—There are none of the small fruits more luscious and healthy, nor more easily grown, than Grapes; and yet none more generally neglected. Requiring but little attention and generally yielding plentifully, there is not a garden in town or country where Grapes should not be found. We have often wondered that our Farmers especially overlook the Grape, when choice varieties can be so readily and cheaply secured from Nurseries close at hand.—Besides beautifying the premises, when trained on arbors or trellises, the fruit is a luxury and the product profitable.

These thoughts are suggested by the advertisement of Mr. ROBERT SHEADS, of this place, in to-day's issue, who has been giving special attention to the Grape culture in his Nursery on Seminary Ridge, and who has for sale a large number of vines of the very best varieties. We have seen and eaten Mr. S.'s Grapes, and can cordially endorse them.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I wish hereby to inform the readers of the "STAR AND SENTINEL," that two potatoe vines grew on the farm of Joseph Cline, in this county, one of which was eight feet five inches, the other seven feet ten inches in length. It is unnecessary to say that they are of the true "Geary" species, from the fact that if they belonged to the "Packer" tribe they might have got a ducking in the "Lehigh," which would have spoiled their growth. ☞We know there are many who scoff at laugh at, and who designate every advertised remedy as "Quackery," "Humbug," and pronounce them worthless. Such terms cannot be truthfully applied to the medicinal remedies of which Dr. H. T. Helmbold, of 594 Broadway, New York, is proprietor. His "Fluid Extract of Buchu," alone has stood the test of science, and yet proved valuable. It has been subject to the severe criticism of eminent professors of pharmacy, and none of such there are but will pronounce it an excellent article, while many there are who freely recommend it as a curative agent for all diseases of the kidneys and urinating organs; in addition to all this, it has been a quarter of a century in existence, yet its sale is constantly being increased. There are numberless concoctions called Fluid Extract of Buchu, hence our friends, in buying, should be careful to ask for and get none other than Hembold's. Dr. Helmbold's drug and warehouse, at 594 Broadway, N. Y., is one of the lions of that gay metropolis. Such of our friends who may be there sojourning should not fail to visit it. We can assure them a kindly welcome from the Doctor and all his courteous employees.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

CAUTION.—Extended success in any department of business justly awakens competition, and owing to defective mental and moral structure, often begets envy. Now these are to be expected and may be met with energy and determination; but not unfrequently the bounds of legitimate rivalries are overstepped, and base, unscrupulous men stoop to use the patronage of others to further their nefarious purposes. With the assistance of science, and by means of industry and honesty, in providing a potent remedy, Dr. Stevens' Old Standard Tonic Herb Bitters have attained unparalleled celebrity, having been before the public for the last thirty years.

Wherever they have entered the sick or complaining household, their effects have even exceeded expectation, and so far surpassed all we have ever claimed for them by circular, card, or otherwise, that the public confidence in the medical qualities of the Bitters is unbounded. We do not fear the competition of the empirical throng who attempt to palm off remedies upon the people, which are not scientifically compounded, and are destitute of available qualities. Their empiricism will be discovered in the end, and the inefficiency of their preparations found out. We would rather be envied for merited success than despised for failure, however ungeneerous it may be for man either to envy or despise. Against another and a worse class of individuals, we are forced to take action. We allude to those who take advantage of our popularity, and attempt to gain public favor and confidence by counterfeiting the Old Standard Bitters, barely imitating the label, or making other approaches to its preparation, calculated to deceive, and as a matter of course, in so far as they succeed, to bring our excellent Tonic into disrepute. The public are hereby warned against all such imitations. In order to further protect ourselves, and save the afflicted from imposition, we have concluded to change our Label so as ever hereafter to sustain our indentity, and keep the reputation of the Old Standard intact. We incur great expense by so doing, but the end warrants the means. The new label along with the caption, directions and neat ornamentation, will present an excellent steel portrait of C. H. Kryder, the senior member of the firm. This will be the badge of its genuineness, as well as a guarantee of the quality of the Bitters. The label will be duly copyrighted, and thus placed beyond the reach of counterfeiters. By no fault of ours shall the public confidence ever be abused or the reputation of the "Old Standard" be allowed to suffer. None genuine unless signed.

IMPROVED MORNING GLORY.—The famous Morning Glory Stove, so popular as a parlor and office stove, has sometimes been objected to for use in chambers and by families needing but one fire, because not adapted to heat water, &c.—This difficulty has been overcome, and last Monday we saw one of the improved Morning Glories in operation at the Warehouse of Col. C. H. BUEHLER, on Carlisle street, which seems not only to obviate objections but to meet every desired want. It is nothing more or less than the ordinary Morning Glory, with an Oven about 15 inches in diameter attached, and ingeniously arranged dampers by which the heat can be thrown around the oven at pleasure, and making it as hot as the ovens of the best cooking stoves. Water can be boiled, pies baked, and even meat roasted as readily as in a cooking stove. This contrivance, while preserving all the qualities of the Morning Glory as a heater, adapts it for the sick chamber, or use in small families requiring but little cooking. tf

PRETTY WOMEN.—A comparatively few Ladies monopolize the Beauty as well as the attention of Society. This ought not to be so, but it is; and will be while men are foolish, and single out pretty faces for companions.

No Lady need complain of a red, tanned, freckled or rustic Complexion, who will invest 75 cents in Hagan's Magnolia Balm. Its effects are truly wonderful.

VENTILATION.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I shall take it for granted, until the contrary be shown, that the air, climate and soil of Adams county are as healthy as on any part of the Globe, of the same extent, and that the powers of man, bodily and intellectually, may be as fully developed here, and reach as great perfection and capacity, as in any latitude or longitude on the whole face of the earth.—Talk of France, Italy, Egypt, Palestine or Arabian sands, for health, beauty or scenery and purity of the air! Give to any or either of them all that is due, and after all the purity of atmosphere, freshness and beauty of scenery, clear skys, bright sun-shines, pure streams, green meadows and fields, general productiveness of the soil under the best management of skilful and intelligent farming, and health of climate, in Adams county, are equal to the best of them.

Invalids or hypocondriacs emigrate north and south for the benefit of their health.—We do not deny, but willingly affirm, that change of scene occasionally is beneficial, mentally and physically, to the healthy and the sick. It enlarges and liberalizes the mind, and any real and substantial improvement of the mind will bring with it correspondingly improved health and vigor of body.

Heretofore, persons of weak lungs have sought the South in the winter season, to guard against the severity of Northern climates, and for the benefit of the air of the South. The advantage gained is simply from being more in the open air, where the temperature is mild and where there is no confinement in close and ill ventilated rooms, and where the lungs receive constantly and unremittingly the nourishment their nature demands of unconfined and undecomposed atmosphere.

In latter times we have seen northern climates in pretty high latitudes recommended for the same complaint. A physician of Mackinaw, near Lake Superior, where the winters are long and severe, some time ago published letters recommending that region of country in the highest terms, for persons disposed to consumption. The air there is spoken of as dry and healthy, and the weather not subject to sudden changes. It is not, therefore, warmth of climate that is necessary, otherwise that cold region would not be the place. A climate, where the air is pure and free from sudden changes, is certainly the most healthy, and if temperate, the most agreeable, one might suppose.—Still, storms and changes have their advantages, and when the lungs are seasoned to them they do no damage. It is only those who inconsiderately allow themselves to be shut up too much in hot and badly ventilated rooms, who are in horror all the time of the changes of the weather.

Let the lungs have the weather as it comes, night and day, and they will laugh at the changes. The whole secret of health is not well understood by most people. It ought to be by physicians and men of science, and tolerably so by persons of reading and observation. Consumption is said to be prevalent in the United States. The bills of mortality certainly indicate that the complaint makes fearful ravages in portions of the States. The climate is charged with being the cause of the prevalence of the disease. We believe the climate of the United States is as healthy as any of the European counties. The blame lies with the habits of the people, and not with the climate. We think we may safely say, without fear of contradiction by physicians, whose practice and observation entitle them to know the fact best, that consumption is but little known among persons whose employment is chiefly in the open air; who are actively employed through the day out of doors, though through the night they may unwisely shut themselves up in tight rooms.—Consumption is chiefly confined to cities and towns, and to persons whose employment is within doors, who give themselves little exercise in the open air, and who sleep in pent up rooms. If in the neighborhood of Mackinaw they live in log houses, such as our healthy fore-fathers of Adams county were brought up in, with large open fire places, where cord wood was burnt and the room warmed by a glowing fire on the hearth, ventilated by the chimney, and a free circulation of air allowed; and if they sleep in rooms where the chinks between the logs allow the fresh air, and even the snow, to blow in—that climate will be free from consumption so long as the people live so. In modern times, our public buildings and private houses appear to be built and guarded on purpose to kill people; as if our lungs were not made to live on fresh air—upon pure, unadulterated, undecomposed atmosphere. Go into our churches, meeting houses and court houses, when crowded, with doors and windows all tightly closed; and the nostrils are assailed with an atmosphere made up of foul breaths, with carbonic acid from decomposition by respiration; and if the gas lights are in full play the air is additionally decomposed.—Those from without enter, perhaps, from a cold, bracing, healthy atmosphere, fresh and elastic, to feel suddenly half stifled by heated and conglomerate gasses, poisonous, inanimate, and lung and life destroying. To be seated and remain is to become flush in the face and to incline to drowsiness. The deadly atmosphere is not so great but you continue to breathe and live, but a screw or two more of the vice might bring it to the killing point, or "plant the seeds of premature death," or to sleep might be the sleep of death. We heard of a lot of calves that were smothered to death in a railroad car, not long since, while at Harrisburg, on this principle,—and we have heard of the black hole of Calcutta. The crowd pass out of this den in a state of perspiration, the lungs relaxed, suddenly into a temperature as different as one's imagination may choose to make it. Nothing short of bad colds and perhaps consumption follow; and certainly the latter must eventually be the result, and is the result, of changes of the kind frequently persisted in. These changes are a thousand times worse than sudden changes of the weather.

Close rooms, private and public, are where diseases of the lungs are bred. Give the lungs pure air, night and day, and there is no danger of consumption, and nothing of the kind is to be feared from sudden changes of the weather. By exposing the lungs to the weather they become seasoned to it, and fit to encounter any and all changes of temperature of the weather.—Dr. Franklin always slept with his windows open, and lived above eighty years, most of the time in cities. We go for abundant ventilation, night and day, in public and private houses. J. S. G.

HOW TO USE SUPER PHOSPHATE.—We have inquires from several subscribers on this point and as there are several ways of using this material with different crops, we propose to give an article that will answer all at the same time.

For grain crops, as barley, on which super-phosphate produces a marked benefit, there are two ways in which it may be applied, either sown broadcast like plaster on the soil at the time of seeding, and harrowed in with the seed, or on the crop after it is up, and before the young plants have become too far advanced—say when they are an inch or two high.

For potatoes we should apply it in drills or hills either at the time of planting the seed, by dropping it along the furrow, or in the hill at that time; or, shortly after the plants are through the ground it may be strewn over them.

For root crops generally it is best to apply by sowing it along the drills either at seeding time or very soon afterwards, except with turnips, with which crop it is usual to apply part of the superphosphate (say two-thirds) in the drill at the time of covering in the manure, and the remainder is reserved to be dusted on the young plants as soon as they appear, in order to quicken the growth and keep off the turnip fly.

For Indian Corn, field beans or squash, it it is usually applied in the hill, mixed with an equal bulk of unleached ashes, and given at the rate of a handful of the mixture to each hill as soon as the plants are an inch or two high.

On grass or clover sow broadcast, about the first to the middle of May, in the same manner as plaster is usually applied.

For garden crops it is best to apply by incorporating it with the top stratum of the soil by sowing thereon as soon as it is forked or spaded over, intermixing by means of a hand rake when making the beds. Afterwards some more may be given by dushing it over the young vegetables soon after they come up.

As a general rule it will be found that from 100 to 200 pounds per acre will be sufficient for field crops; more is sometimes given to turnips, but as the effects of superphosphates are not permanent in the soil like bone dust or ground bones, it pays better to apply some each year to the crops intended to be benefited, than to put on a large dose at one time. It is soon dissolved by rain, and what is not taken up by the roots of the plants in their early stages of growth is apt to get washed beyond their reach before the end of the season.—Canada Farmer.

PLANTING YELLOW LOCUST.—Hon. T. C. Peters recently presented the following paper on the yellow locust at a meeting of the New York Farmers' Club:

To those farmers who think of starting a grove of yellow locust, now is the time to prepare seed for propagating the plant. It is much the wisest and best way to start the plant in a nursery, and next spring to transplant to the intended grove. It is a valuable timber to grow, but the borer has become so troublesome in the older sections of the country that it will be advisable to start the plantation in worked ground.

In preparing the seed, we have been in the habit of pouring boiling water upon it, and let stand twenty-four hours; then drain off the water, and pick out all the seeds which have changed to a whitish color, and plant at once in rows in well prepared ground for the nursery. Repeat the operation upon the seed; the second, and probably the third time, it will all be changed and ready to plant.

Care should be taken to keep the plants clear from weeds or grass the first year, and the seed ought not to be planted until after the corn is up, for fear of the frost. The next spring the seeding will be large enough for their final transplanting.

In Kentucky we saw a grove started, which promised good results. After the corn was well up a locust tree from the nursery was planted near every fourth hill of corn in the rows crossway. Most of them grew, and where they did not, fresh ones had been planted. The next year little was done except to level the land with a heavy harrow; the third year a plow had been run once between the rows, in the middle, to break the roots. A dense growth of young trees was the consequence, and the grove promised a splendid growth of locust and young hickory.

GET AN EARLY BREAKFAST.—A bad custom is prevalent in many families, especially among farmers, of working an hour or two before breakfast, attending to chores, hoeing in the garden, cutting wood, mowing, etc. This is convenient on many accounts, but not conducive to health. The prevalent opinion is, that the morning air is the purest and most healthy and bracing; but the contrary is the fact. At no hour is the air more filled with dampness, fogs and miasmas than about sunrise. The heat of the sun gradually dissipates these miasmatic influences as the day advances. An early meal braces up the system against these external influences. Every one knows the languor and faintness often experienced for the first hour in the morning, and that it is increased by exercise and the want of food. We do not agree with the boarding-house regime which prescribes a long walk before breakfast as a means of promoting health. Probably the best custom would be, to furnish every member of the family, especially those who labor out of doors, with a cup of warm coffee, well mixed, immediately after rising from bed. Then let them attend to chores, or mowing, hoeing etc., for an hour or two, while the teams are feeding and the breakfast is preparing. They will feel better, and do more.—Agriculturist.

WHAT THE FARMER MUST KNOW.—The farmer, like the buisness man, must know what he is doing; he must have some pretty decided ideas of what he is accomplishing—in fact he must calculate beforehand.

He must know his soil—that of each lot; not only the top, but the sub-soil.

He must also know what grain and grasses are adapted to each.

He must know when is the best time to work them, whether they need summer fallowing.

He must know the condition in which the ground must be when plowed, so that it be not too wet or too dry.

He must know that some grains require earlier growing than others, and what those grains are.

He must know how to put them in.

He must know when it pays to have machinery to aid him, as well as muscle.

He must know about stock and manures, and the cultivation of trees and small fruits; he must know, to be sure of success. Then he will not guess—will not run risks.—Rural World.

IF poultry is infested with lice, damp the skin under the feathers with water, then sprinkle a little sulphur on the skin. Let the bird be covered with insects or parasities, they will disappear in the course of twelve hours.

WHAT part of the Scriptures would two ladies fulfill when kissing each other? Doing unto others what they would that men should do unto them.

A YOUNG lady in Staunton, Va., keeps a list of her male acquaintances in a pocket diary, and calls it her him-book.

THE maxim, "strike while the iron is hot," is getting altogether too slow for the age; you must make it hot by striking.

IT is very curious that men never know they have grey hairs. The discovery is always made for them by other people.

THE WORLD,

DODGES' OHIO AND BUCKEYE

Reapers and Mowers.

A careful examination of these machines will commence any one of their superior merits over all others, in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability for work, on all kinds of ground, and in every variety of grass and grain. Confident of this we invite those in want of a good machine to examine for themselves before purchasing elsewhere.

These machines can be sold as Naked Mowers-REAPERS as Hand Rake, Self-Rake, or Dropper—Two different sizes: No. 1 Machine, with two cutter Bars and three Knives, cutting five and a half feet in grass and four feet eight inches in grass; No. 2, cutting four feet six inches.

We have that confidence in these machines that we are willing to let those wanting a machine test them with any other they may wish, and keep the one that gives best satisfaction. DODGES' AUTOMAN SELF-RAKE has given such general satisfaction that we consider it the best Self-Rakeout, and is attached to no other machine except the Dodge Machine, the Ohio and Buckeye patent.

For the benefit of those wanting machines we would refer them to a few of those to whom we have sold the last season, viz:

John Boardorff, Sen.,	Henry Culp,
Ephraim Lady,	Henry King,
George Lady,	Elisha Pentzer,
Jonathan Wisler,	David Stewart,

John Eckert,	Wm. Bigham,
Wm. Fent,	John Gitlo,

Also, WIRE TOOTH HAY RAKES, including the celebrated Brandt Rake, and Self-discharging Rake. Also, PLOUGHS, FANNING MILLS, AND FARM IMPLEMENTS GENERALLY.

Persons wishing to examine machines will find them at the warehouse of JOSEPH WISLE & SONS, Gettysburg Pa., or at the residence of the subscriber, 2 miles from Gettysburg, on the Harrisburg road. Persons wanting Circulars will address the subscriber, Gettysburg, Pa.

STILL AHEAD!

HOFFHEINS'

REAPER & MOWER,

One of the Greatest Machines of the Age.

IS superior to any other Machine now in use, as it will excel any that will ever be introduced, having been thoroughly tried and given general satisfaction. I would now inform all those who intend purchasing Machines to call and examine for themselves. This Machine is noted particularly to excel all other machines in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability of work, in all kinds of grass and grain. It cuts lodged grain admirably, which is a great item in Machines to a farmer. It can be used as a hand rake as well as self-raker. It cuts 5 feet 2 inches in grass; 4 feet 10 inches in grass; has a steel Cutter bar, with wrought iron guards; it can be used as a Single Mower as well as a Combined Machine.

A full trial of the Machine can be had.

Also SHIREMAN'S SELF-DISCHARGING HORSE RAKE, and the great and well-known BRANT RAKE, the best rakes ever introduced. We would also call your attention to the IRON DOUBLE SHOVEL PLOUGH, wrought iron frame, very light and strong, steel shovels, easily adjusted to run shallow or deep, and is neatly and tastefully made.

ALSO, THE KEELER AND EXCELSIOR FANNING MILL, the old Bamborough Fan improved, for many years a great favorite among the farmers of Pennsylvania. It is large and strong, has two cockle screens, and warranted to work perfectly.

Also all kinds of FARMING IMPLEMENTS always on hand.

Any person wishing to examine these machines can see them at the Battle-field Hotel or at my residence, 3 miles from Gettysburg, between the Taneytown road and the Baltimore pike.

GEISER'S PATENT SELF-REGULATING

GRAIN SEPARATOR,

CLEANER AND BAGGER,

With the latest improved Triple-geared Horse Power, either Gear or Belt.

This machine has successfully competed with all the best of the different patented Grain Separators, and now has the reputation of being the best Separator ever produced; in fact, the only Separator and Cleaner ever before the public to give general satisfaction.

The machine is conveniently arranged for hauling and threshing, being permanently fixed on two wheels. One man can easily move or shift it about, so that it is not half the trouble on a barn floor as a common thresher and shaker. It is also easily put in operation. It is simple, easily managed, reliable, durable, compact and cleanly to work by while in operation, not making near the dust as the common machine or other Separators.

Farmers can rest assured that this machine is no humbug, and judging from the high recommendation of farmers that are using them we must come to the conclusion that it is the very machine that farmers want.

The following are a few of the persons who have used this machine, well known, and to whom the same can be referred for further information:
